8	Brief Abstract of the Research Work(250 Words)	Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) are the emerging sector in the Indian economy where growth and development is very much inclined to the accessing and availability of finance. MSMEs got tremendous potential to support economic growth, inclusive development, employment generation, and rural development. Although these firms have vast potential, they are hindered by various factors, including finance, production, and manufacturing, marketing, labour, and other government policies and procedures issues. In the selected district, that is, Odisha, there is a huge opportunity to grow as infrastructure is fully developed and labour is not an issue. The market is nearby, and demand exists in the market. Therefore, the present study is based on the financial management of the firms that availed any MSME finance through analyzing four factors: finance, production, marketing, and labour. Due to limited scope, Jharsuguda and Sambalpur districts are selected for the study. The study aims to determine the status of MSMEs in Odisha and specifically in the selected districts, success factors of MSMEs and important financial measures for growth and development of MSMEs and also the impacts of government schemes on MSMEs. Both primary and secondary data will be used in the study.
