Finishing School

(ONLINE MODE)

FINISHING SCHOOL is a concept designating non-formal training of the students in professional courses as an initiative for greater employability emphasising on all round personality development, communication skill, social and cultural activities, etc. In Library and Information Science, Finishing School would be highly beneficial platform for the graduating students to understand and practice skill sets beyond their formal Masters syllabus. The Finishing school focuses on the five important areas: Life Skills, Employability Skills, Communication Skills, Core LIS Skills, and General Awareness and Aptitude Skills. The resource persons who would impart intensive training with practical components would include eminent persons both from academics and professional fields. The outcome of the programme aims to inculcate the outgoing LIS students with lot of confidence and professionalism in them so that to make them industry-ready.

OBJECTIVES

- ✦ To enhance employability of the students
- ✦ To equip with skill sets required in advanced libraries
- ✦ To orient the students with skills other than that they learn from their syllabus based formal education
- ✦ To provide an interface with senior working professionals in LIS
- ✦ To build self-confidence and self-esteem among the students
